NO CHINESE VOTING WANTED THE San Franciscans are known to be sa they would say themselves, great on and it appears that when individual efforte in that line are exhausted they get their aniusing tall talk dong by contract. Miss Anna E. Dickhison the lecturer on Woman's Rights, Had lately been employed in this national service, and blew her trumpet before an andience of two thousand persons on the July, with immense success She enlarged amid "deafening applause" on the "unparalleled contest in the cause of liberty, through which her country has passed, and informed her gratified hearers that freedom in Italy and religious toleration in Spain are among the results of the war of Secession. following passages exemplify the lady legturer's vigorous heroics:

"It is impossible for a nation struggling for itself alone not to help others; and the battle of Gettysburg was the hinge of the nineteenth century Look at the map o Europe to day, Spain is an advocate of religious toleration; Italy is partly free; Anstria has released herself from the voke of priestoraft: Prussia has gathered under her wing all, the nationalities of Germany. he "inscrutable man" of Paris shivers impending fate. When we look back at the struggles, of our, forefathers, and coutemplate our condition of to-day and our more recent condition we may realize for what we contended. It, puts our war on a small basis if we allthit that we contended alone for the eradication of alavery. It was not to. We fought for humanity. The men of Europe became grave when the mmensity of the struggle was realized. They scouted as ; they befouled their enemes that's as. But for all that. and despotism was vanquished. Everywhere this was realized; from Philadelphia

Liberty and equality, however, must not be pushed too far-in San Francisco. Miss Dickinson comes back on John Chinaman in a style which must permanently endear her to the dwellers on the Proffic Slope. With an eloquence which hight be called alightly incoherent by the hypercritical, the lady concluded her pration in the following outburst The stranger is astonished at the richness of the land aid the fewness of the laborers. We could not shut them out mountains were not tall enough, seas were not broad enough, nor laws means enough to accomplish that The day will come when their friends will demand the ballot for them as the only means of protection. lately made in both countries One of the most curious perversions we have come across, in which the question of relations with foreigners as between York brethren who evidently regard makes the following amusing if melancholy blunder. There are it says, reports of a wide-spread dissatisfaction among the Chinese against foreigners, and of a systematic combination to expel Vrooman has been appointed Interpreter to. them from the country. These reports the U. S. Consulate: Sewing machines may be exaggerated, but it is certain the common beople do not hearfuly symbathize with the biberal tendencies of the Imperial Government, and would prefer that the Christian missionaries at least should excluded. Possibly the feeling of sople against foreigners may be intenafied by the accounts of outrages upon their countrymen abroad. It would be difficult to more completely reverse the actual condition under which foreigners reside in China. The addition of two letters would make the sentence truthful -" the common people do not heartily sympathise with the il-liberal tendencies of the Imperial Government"-but some evil demon, whispering in the ear have prompted the suppressio and suggestio falsi; the more dangero can do no less than protest against such violations of truth, when so glaring. THE news that the Duke of Edinburgh will, after all, proceed to Peking, whether received by the Chinese authorities or not, is, though a matter of congratulation to those who would have unduly hurried by his arrival in Hong kong earlier than expected, a debateabl matter of policy. If he intends to demand an audience of the Emperor and will endeavour by every reasonable niens compel compliance—moral, force course the only resource—he will confer no small benefit upon foreigners in China breaking down the last, barrier of official exclusiveness, though many years unau elapse before the advantages of such course will be perceptible. If, on the other hand, he is "snubbed," will not the was a constable. The pass was Chinese, already great enough in their own conceit, be additionally elated at having been able to successfully repulse even son of the Queen of Great Britain, when he sought to invade the sacred seclusion of the much reverenced Emperor? the latter is a mere boy is nothing. principle and precedent of receiving as an equal a foreign prince is the matter at issue, and, if the Chinese persist in a refusal will not more liarm be done to foreign interests than peaceful measure will easily repair ? We may of course fall back upon the saying "that anything which provokes war will be to the bene fit of foreign residents in China," but we hardly think such a style of reasoning worthy of either residents or journalists. We may find less to regret in impending warfare from a conviction that it is the over-charged atmosphere. But we can hardly rejoice at acts which, though evidently tending to bring it about, are in the meantime derogatory to the dignity of the nation in Chinese eyes and upon the preservation of our dignity depends our freedom of trade, and security against petty insults and other annovances, including, as not least, the right preach Christianity, Perhaps the best we can say is that H. THE PRUSSIAN ABMY However great may be the late triumphs achieved by the Prussian army, it seems, nevertheless !to be the most unpopular kervice in Kuropel The domineering of the officers, the poverty of the soldier, and the strictness of the discipline render life to many almost intolerable. To prove this, it is necessary onlyito state that, according to German statistics. there were in 1868 no less than 134 suioides in the army of North Germany, "Thelibid number of deaths amounted to 1:844%. This frightful proportion is finite times greater than that which exists in the armies of the Confederation. We find that in the army of Northern Germany there is one suicide for every 2,238 soldiers in Denmark oh for every 3,900; in Saxony, one for every 5,000; in Baden, one for every 9,000; in Wirtemberg the proportion is the same as in Norway one for every 9,784; in France there is one suicide for every 10 000-11 Sweden, one in every 15,000; in Bavarie it is the same as in Sweden; and in Belgium there is one in every 17,800. It may also be remarked that between 1849 and 1852 the proportion of suicides in the Priesian army was only one to every 9.000 soldiers - Pall Mall Gazette. STATE VIBITS Strong representations are being made to the Chancellor of the Exchequer to induce him to consent to propose to Parliament that, the Prince of Wales's expenses in the East should be defrayed out of the public purse, on the ground that the visit to Egypt and Constantinople had more of a State than of a private character. We hope that they may succeed, as we think it right that these expenses should not all fall on the Prince's narrow income ; but at the same time me would point out that the Prince's suite on that occasion partock yery little of & State character, and that when the country undertake the expenses they ought, also through their Government to have a voice in the selection of those who are to

QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN. EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS.

(From the "Strasts Times," July 27, 1868.) Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as represented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on thing and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful. information regarding the language, literature, history, magners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with.

apparently successful vigour. The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success, we commend it to the attention and support of our readers. (From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868.

We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Angio-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of Chins and Japan " are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can see that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its ine! terest is not confined to China, and it will! be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better known in India

(From the "London Examiner." May 16, 1868. This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports

China and Japan "] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. It has been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds, considerably enhance its value. * * * We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Canton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remainder of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and 1.—Pilot Boats shall be registered with readers respecting its history, public buils contain so much that is new to Enropean their crews at the Harbour Master's Office, dings, and general characteristics, that we would fain transfer them to our columns. and number.
